KEY FEATURES

- Made of high-quality polyolefin material, which shrinks in diameter when heat is applied.
- Sleeve is slipped over the object to be covered and then heated using a heat gun or similar source.
- Heat shrink sleeves form a tough outer layer that shields the wires from cuts, wear, and physical damage.
- Resistant to chemicals and high temperatures.
- Designed to insulate wires, connections, joints, and terminals.
- Comes in a plastic storage box with compartments.
- Size chart label on the inside of the lid for quick identification.
- Perfect for home use, workshop, and service repairs.
